I swapped in a pair of 1.0 OIMP V-Caps for the Auricaps in my Wright 2A3 monos.

Big improvements across the board right away, and continued to improve through 80 hours or so.

A vertical advertisement for JPS Labs. At the top, it says "Pssst..." in a stylized font. Below that is a photograph of a blue glass vase containing several audio cables with gold-plated connectors. The vase has "JPS" written on it in gold. Below the vase, the text reads "Listen, Clearly, Always..." in yellow. Further down, "JPS Labs" is written in large blue letters. Below that, "The World's Finest Cables" is written in yellow. At the bottom, the website "www.JPSLabs.com" is listed in white on a blue background, with "Ads by Goooooogle" in small white text below it.
